

Introduction to Permaculture

WHO WE ARE?

At Friends with honey, we want to capture the communities fascination and love for nature and equip them with the skills necessary to recognise and protect their local biodiversity.

WHAT WE DO?

We live in times of great uncertainty. The climate is changing, ecosystems are under pressure and natural resources are being consumed at an alarming rate.

But there is a solution. Permaculture is about navigating the future in a more resilient way by working with nature to create a more sustainable future.

"Though the problems of the world are increasingly complex, the solutions remain embarrassingly simple" – Bill Mollison (co-creator of permaculture movement)

WHAT'S THE BUZZ?

Permaculture is a design system that offers practical ideas for how humans can simultaneously provide for ourselves and regenerate the natural world.

We'll discuss some of the 12 guiding principles of permaculture including;

- Working with nature rather than against her
- Reduce, re-use, recycle and value renewables
- How to minimise energy use
- Develop efficient systems that interconnect (eg chooks, worm farm, vegie patch)
- Think globally act locally

In this short workshop we'll introduce you to some overarching permaculture concepts as well as some resources and next steps in your permaculture journey.

PRICE?

This two hour session, for up to 25 participants is $495 (Metro Melbourne)
